....Just for Fun

205 Chickenfoot Instructor Jeff Burkett

No, we aren't going to learn how to bake and eat chicken feet, it's about learning to play CHICKENFOOT, also called Chicken-Foot Dominoes. It is a domino game that is best played by 4-7 players. It's a GREAT family game and very easy to learn. The game was invented by Louis and Betty Howsley in 1986 and is played in rounds, with the goal of the game to have the lowest score at the end of the last round. More people in our community have discovered the great fun playing it. You'll learn the game from some Montrose area CHICKENFOOT JEDI's! We will let you know where you can purchase the equipment needed to play at home. A great class to attend with some friends or family (Age 13 and up). We will meet in the Montrose Library Community room. Light snacks will be available. Sign up soon! The class limit is 32 students.

History and Culture

501 Pennsylvania's Revolutionary Ironmasters instructor Dan Graham

We are about to celebrate the 250th Anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. In the spring of 1775, the battles of Lexington and Concord were fought. The following June, the Pennsylvania Assembly passed a defense bill that called for raising a militia, fortifying Philadelphia, and manufacturing gunpowder and arms. The Pennsylvania ironmasters were among the earliest supporters in America's fight for independence. They were producing cannon, shot and shell for America's Independence before the signing of the Declaration. The class will discuss their contributions.

603 An Introduction to Better Investing Instructor Howard Burkett

Better Investing is a nonprofit organization dedicated to educating individual investors and investment clubs to become successful lifelong investors. Founded in 1951, the National Association of Investors™ (NAIC®), the parent organization of BetterInvesting®, is recognized as a national 501(c)(3) nonprofit focused on investment education. Over the years, BetterInvesting has empowered more than five million people from diverse backgrounds to improve their financial futures by learning and applying sound investing principles.

The association was established on the belief that anyone can achieve success as a lifelong stock investor by adhering to practical and proven investing strategies. Whether you are an experienced investor or just starting out, interested in investing independently or as part of an investment club, BetterInvesting provides guidance on building a profitable portfolio of high-quality growth companies to help you work toward your long-term financial goals.

This class will be led by Howard, who has more than 25 years of experience with BetterInvesting. Howard has founded two investment clubs—one of which has been active for nearly 30 years—and has offered training to hundreds of new investors in the Southern California community, assisting them in starting investment clubs or learning how to apply BetterInvesting's methods independently.
